Lippincott's Textbook for Nursing Assistants John Wiley & Sons
 "Nurses play a vital role in improving the safety and quality of patient care -- not only in the hospital or ambulatory treatment facility, but also of community-based care and the care performed by family members. Nurses need to know what proven techniques and interventions they can use to enhance patient outcomes. To address this need, the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), with additional funding from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, has prepared this comprehensive, 1,400-page, handbook for nurses on patient safety and quality -- Patient Safety and Quality: An Evidence-Based Handbook for Nurses. (AHRQ Publication No. 08-0043)." - online AHRQ blurb, <http://www.ahrq.gov/qual/nursesfdbk/>

Nursing Staff in Hospitals and Nursing Homes Elsevier Health Sciences

Hospitals and nursing homes are responding to changes in the health care system by modifying staffing levels and the mix of nursing personnel. But do these changes endanger the quality of patient care? Do nursing staff suffer increased rates of injury, illness, or stress because of changing workplace demands? These questions are addressed in Nursing Staff in Hospitals and Nursing Homes, a thorough and authoritative look at today's health care system that also takes a long-term view of staffing needs for nursing as the nation moves into the next century. The committee draws fundamental conclusions about the evolving role of nurses in hospitals and nursing homes and presents recommendations about staffing decisions, nursing training, measurement of quality, reimbursement, and other areas. The volume also discusses work-related injuries, violence toward and abuse of nursing staffs, and stress among nursing personnel—and examines whether these problems are related to staffing levels. Included is a readable overview of the underlying trends in health care that have given rise to urgent questions about nurse staffing: population changes, budget pressures, and the introduction of new technologies. Nursing Staff in Hospitals and Nursing Homes provides a straightforward examination of complex and sensitive issues surround the role and value of nursing on our health care system.

Restorative Care Elsevier Health Sciences

The aim of the Special Issue is to discuss the main current topics concerning marketing for sustainable tourism with reference to territories (i.e., tourism destinations, protected areas, parks and/or natural sites, UNESCO World Heritage Sites, rural regions/areas, etc.) and tourism enterprises and/or organisations (i.e., destination management organisations, hospitality enterprises, restaurant enterprises, cableway companies, travel agencies, etc.). In destinations where natural resources are pull factors for tourism development, the relationships among local actors (public, private, and local community), as well as marketing choices, are essential to develop sustainable tourism products. To this end, the Special Issue encourages papers that analyse marketing strategies adopted by tourism destinations and/or tourism enterprises to avoid overtourism, to manage mass sustainable tourism (as defined by Weaver, 2000), and to encourage and promote sustainable tourism in marginal areas or in territories suffering lack of integration in the tourism offer. Special attention will be given to contributions on the best practices to manage territories and/or enterprises adopting sustainable marketing strategies.

Management of Fecal Incontinence for the Advanced Practice Nurse Cambridge University Press

The book describes the current management of fecal incontinence from an advanced practice nursing perspective. It fills a gap in nursing knowledge promoting and showcasing the expertise and significant contribution of advanced practice nurses whose role is so important in the health care system. Authors' objectives are to disseminate information about evidenced-based nursing care for the incontinent patient to improve outcomes and quality of life as well as to instruct nurses involved in continence care to practice at a high quality level. The book is structured in chapters, starting by explaining fecal incontinence and its impact on quality of life. The second chapter discusses advanced practice continence nursing. The epidemiology of fecal incontinence is reviewed to provide an appreciation of the scope of the problem. Normal defecation and mechanisms to ensure continence are reviewed to improve understanding of the alterations resulting in fecal incontinence. The next chapters focus on assessment, diagnosis and management of fecal incontinence in various patient groups which parallels the delivery of care. Since surgery is a treatment option in some cases, a chapter explains surgical approaches and the postoperative nursing care. As skin damage is the most common complication of fecal incontinence there is a chapter about management of these associated problems. The last chapter addresses managing fecal incontinence in the patient with urinary continence also. Practice related chapters include a case study. All chapters highlight key information in a box or table. The intended readers are international advanced practice nurses who care for patients with incontinence as well as continence nurse specialists practicing at a general level. General nurses interested in continence care might also be interested in reading the book. Other disciplines who are part of the healthcare team may be interested in learning more about role of the advanced practice nurse.

Prioritization, Delegation, and Assignment McGraw Hill Professional

This book, Practicing CNA in Nursing Homes, is a gem in between CNAs' hands. Many of them have great experiences and provide star service in nursing homes, and reach the residents' satisfaction by using standard precautions and applying the CNAs skills properly. However, most of them lack the skills and use them improperly. They need some help, not only regarding skills, but also regarding handling nosocomial infections and raising customer satisfaction This book also aims toward an ambitious objective, which is being a primary source of research for those who are interested in nursing homes in the United States. Nursing homes exist everywhere in the world, but we find that the level of function here is different. Therefore, this book is going to describe life inside the nursing homes in this country. It's a mixture of micro-socio-pathological descriptions that can resuscitate a desire to better understand this reality, which has remained so long unknown, and that needs to be unveiled. Acene Fleurmons was born in Artibonite, Haiti in 1959. His father is Anoucet Fleurmons and his mother is Carmen; two farmers who raised eight children. Acene is the fifth child who grew up in God's grace and went to school in Port-au-Prince, where he earned a certificate in philosophy at the Higher Teacher Training School in 1990, and in sociology at the Humanities School in 1993. Acene came to Miami in 1997 and went to Florida International University (FIU). There he received a Bachelor of Social Work in 2004. After that, Acene continued studying with Bellevue University and earned 27 credits in Healthcare Management and Administration of Nursing (master's program). This study is in progress. Moreover, Acene earned his doctorate degree in Christian Counseling from the Ministry International Institute in 2005.
