The tourism industry is rapidly growing and jobs in tourism management are becoming highly sought after. Working in this sector will offer a huge range of interesting roles, such as meeting new people and the opportunity to travel. If you have a passion for all things travel related and you are a people person, then this type of profession will be ideal for you. Tourism management refers to everything that is related to the hospitality and travel industries. It offers extensive training opportunities for management positions in the travel, accommodations, and food industry. Tourism management can also include working in associations or agencies that are directly involved with tourism services. A bachelor's degree in tourism management is a precondition for acquiring in-depth practical and theoretical knowledge in the field of administration and business management. The foundation course will also cover the basic principles of legal, economic, marketing, accounting, and finance as well as management in tourism, hotel management and hospitality management. Apart from the necessary qualifications, you must also set yourself apart from other candidates since tourism management is a fiercely competitive industry to work in. Even if you don't have the formal qualifications to work in this sector, you can still work your way up to the managerial position after gaining experience. You can also work in an entry-level job in the travel and tourism industry and study tourism management on a part-time basis in order to get qualified and earn a higher salary. As a qualified tourism manager, you can work in a variety of jobs that are related to the tourist industry. Some of these are: Front desk clerk/receptionist Events manager Hotel or resort manager Housekeeper Tour operator Tourism marketing manager Travel agency manager Tourist Information Centre manager Accountant or sales manager Guest relations manager The duties associated with a tourism management job vary greatly from one business to another. In general, the main responsibilities are focuses on: Monitoring accounts and managing budgets Overseeing the day-to-day functions of businesses Managing staff Interviewing and training new staff Promoting tourism Ensuring customer satisfaction Maximising business revenue Taking part in financial planning Dealing with customer complaints or queries Marketing the business for the purpose of attracting tourists Keeping up-to-date with the emerging industry trends through attending seminars or doing online research Seeking ways to improve the company's tourism-related activities The importance of tourism for every country in the world arises from the various benefits it offers to the host country. After all, tourism contributes to the country's economic growth and development by bringing valuable benefits to the locals as well as to businesses.

No business operates itself. No one person can manage every aspect either. Business and Management are the disciplines devoted to organizing, analyzing, and planning various types of business operations. And if that sounds really general, that's just because these Book cover a lot of ground! These concepts given in this book teach the fundamental skills that are required to efficiently run or manage a business. So, whether you want to work for a large corporation, or in a mom-and-pop shop, you can be confident that a topic in this Business and Management book will teach you the skills and theory you need for a successful career. Being in the business field could mean anything from routing calls to making sales. Some work in public relations while others choose market research. Purchasing managers share the elevator with distribution managers, and a director of human resources chats with the benefits administrator. A manager keeps the day-to-day business operations running smoothly. They may write departmental procedures, conduct performance evaluations, and train new staff. Some make hiring—and firing—decisions. Managers set budgets, evaluate new technologies, and mentor their employees. Maybe you have the entrepreneurial spirit and want to try your hand at building the next Facebook. Experience goes a long way, but if you combine that with an entrepreneurship degree, you'll be well equipped to set off on your own. However you choose to pursue either business or management, you want to make sure that you're choosing a career that fits your unique skills. The possible job titles for Business and Management majors are practically unlimited. They range from financial managers, who use their mathematical skills to generate financial forecasts, to marketing managers, who draw upon their creativity to manage advertising and sales efforts. This Book Business and Management, splitted in to Five parts This is the Third part in the series each part covers 10 Subject Matters ,Subjects covered in this Third part are given below :
