Paws Off, Cheddarface! (Geronimo Stilton #6) HarperCollins UK
 Journey back in time with Geronimo in this fabumouse special edition! I, Geronimo Stilton, never expected to set paw inside a time machine. But when Professor Paws von Volt invited me to travel with him, I had to accept! My family came along to help us discover how the dinosaurs became extinct, how the Great Pyramid of Giza was built, and what life was like at King Arthur's court. Along the way I was chased by a Tyrannosaurus rex, almost eaten by a crocodile in the Nile, and asked to save a maiden from an evil knight's castle. Holey cheese! It was an adventure through history!

Le sourire de Mona Sourisa Papercutz
 Geronimo isn't the only world-famous adventuring journalist from New Mouse City; introducing his fabulous sister, Thea! The Thea Sisters are five fun, lively students at Ratford College on Whale Island, who want to be real, live journalists just like their hero, Thea Stilton. Between classes and friendships, love and small fits of jealousy, they're finding college life is really exciting! In "The Secret of Whale Island," it's the start of the new school year and the students have arrived at Ratford College. Every year at this time, the whales move off the coast of Whale Island, but this time, a savage killer whale threatens the peace.

G'day, mate! I was searching for ideas for my new book, and my friend Petunia Pretty Paws knew just where to find them -- in Australia. Holey cheese, it sounded like a fabmouse adventure! But between surfing with sharks, being chased by poisonous snakes, and getting lost in the outback, I was beginning to wonder if this trip down under was really a good idea. Kangaroos and koalas and crocs -- oh, my! Would I ever see New Mouse City again?

Who is Geronimo Stilton? That's me! I run a newspaper, but my true passion is writing tales of adventure. Here on Mouse Island, my books are all best-sellers! They are whisker-licking good tales, and that's a promise! __PAWS OFF, CHEDDARFACE! It was the strangest thing... all across New Mouse City, rodents kept telling me I'd done things I had no memory of! I soon discovered why... there was a Geronimo look-alike out there, pretending to be me. He'd even fooled my sister Thea! And worst of all, he was trying to take over my newspaper. I had to find a way to strike back -- but how??

Attack of the Bandit Cats (Geronimo Stilton #8) Penguin UK

Geronimo Stilton, intellectuel distrait, sensible et raffiné, dirige le journal "L'écho des rongeurs". Entouré des membres colorés et sympathiques de sa famille, cette souris est toujours entraînée dans "des aventures à faire pâlir la mimollette!". Le résultat : des romans rythmés dans lesquels s'entremêlent humour et suspense léger, égayés d'amusantes illustrations; les typographies variées et expressives, ainsi que la mise en pages originale, ajoutent au plaisir de la lecture. Dans cet épisode, Geronimo et sa famille tentent de découvrir quel trésor cache un mystérieux tableau. [SDM].

Winner of the Frederick Jackson Turner Award Winner of the George Perkins Marsh Prize Winner of the John Brinckerhoff Jackson Book Prize "A major work of history that brings together African-American history and environmental studies in exciting ways." —Davarian L. Baldwin, Journal of Interdisciplinary History Between 1915 and 1940, hundreds of thousands of African Americans left the rural South to begin new lives in the urban North. In Chicago, the black population quintupled to more than 275,000. Most historians map the integration of southern and northern black culture by looking at labor, politics, and popular culture. An award-winning environmental historian, Brian McCammack charts a different course, considering instead how black Chicagoans forged material and imaginative connections to nature. The first major history to frame the Great Migration as an environmental experience, Landscapes of Hope takes us to Chicago's parks and beaches as well as to the youth camps, vacation resorts, farms, and forests of the rural Midwest. Situated at the intersection of race and place in American history, it traces the contours of a black environmental consciousness that runs throughout the African American experience. "Uncovers the untold history of African Americans' migration to Chicago as they constructed both material and immaterial connections to nature."

—Teona Williams, Black Perspectives "A beautifully written, smart, painstakingly researched account that adds nuance to the growing field of African American environmental history." —Colin Fisher, American Historical Review "If in the South nature was associated with labor, for the inhabitants of the crowded tenements in Chicago, nature increasingly became a source of leisure." —Reinier de Graaf, New York Review of Books
