Putting Writing Research into Practice Basic Books
 LehrerInnen sind zentrale Akteure für die Gestaltung schulischer Berufsorientierung. Benjamin Dreer geht der Frage nach, wie Lehrpersonen systematisch auf die damit verbundenen anforderungsreichen Aufgaben vorbereitet werden können. Dies wird in drei Schritten dargelegt: Zunächst berichtet der Autor Ergebnisse einer Studie, in der notwendige Kompetenzen von Lehrpersonen für die schulische Berufsorientierung identifiziert wurden. Danach wird ein Bildungsprogramm vorgestellt, das entlang evidenzbasierter hochschuldidaktischer Konzepte mit dem Ziel entwickelt wurde, die identifizierten Kompetenzen in der ersten Phase der Lehrerbildung zu fördern. Abschließend erfolgt die Darstellung einer Evaluationsstudie zur Überprüfung der Wirksamkeit dieses Bildungsprogramms. Insgesamt kommt der Autor zu dem Ergebnis, dass berufsorientierungsrelevante Kompetenzen von Lehrpersonen nicht nur grundlegend theoretisch beschrieben, sondern im Rahmen der Lehrerausbildung mit geeigneten Programmen auch gefördert werden können.

This book reports the findings from the tri-national video study Quality of Instruction in Physics (QuIP). Within the scope of the QuIP study, physics instruction was investigated in a total of 103 classes from Finland, North Rhine-Westphalia (Germany) and German-speaking Switzerland. The main aim was to identify typical patterns of physics instruction of the three samples and to investigate conditions under which these patterns are successful with respect to students' learning, interest and motivation. Among others instructional characteristics, the quality of students' practical work, successful patterns of sequencing, the subject matter structure and teaching strategies were investigated by means of analyses of video-recorded lessons. Variables external to instruction that were investigated included teachers' professional knowledge and students' cognitive abilities. The study followed a pre-post-design with data collection prior to and after an instructional unit on electrical energy and power. The results are well in line with the findings from large-scale international studies indicating a particularly successful instructional pattern in Finland. A comparison of characterisation of instruction in comparison between the three countries reveals important findings for the improvement of the teaching and learning of physics in secondary school education.

« Understanding today's Vocational Education and Training (VET) systems requires a comprehension of the rise and development, i.e. of the foundations of topical VET. This book is one of the first publications providing a comparative view of this development in Europe. Apart from older roots, the evolution of VET systems are one trigger of the modernization of economy, society and education itself. The 28 contributions, including countries like Austria, Britain, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Lithuania, Norway, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland of renowned authors and experts in this field are organized in three sections: Concepts which are discussing theoretical approaches towards this phenomenon. Cases which stress specific developments of VET in a certain country or region and Challenges which are contextualizing the historical perspective in a topical policy context. »--

What are the most effective methods for teaching writing across grade levels and student populations? What kind of training do teachers need to put research-validated methods into practice? This unique volume combines the latest writing research with clear-cut recommendations for designing high-quality professional development efforts. Prominent authorities describe ways to help teachers succeed by using peer coaching, cross-disciplinary collaboration, lesson study, and other professional development models. All aspects of instruction and assessment are addressed, including high-stakes writing assessments, applications of technology, motivational issues, writing in different genres and subject areas, and teaching struggling writers.

Educational Research and Innovation Educating Teachers for Diversity Meeting the Challenge Waxmann Verlag

Population mobility is at an all-time high in human history. One result of this unprecedented movement of peoples around the world is that in many school systems monolingual and monocultural students are the exception rather than the rule, particularly in urban areas. This shift in demographic realities entails enormous challenges for educators and policy-makers. What do teachers need to know in order to teach effectively in linguistically and culturally diverse contexts? How long does it take second language learners to acquire proficiency in the language of school instruction? What are the differences between attaining conversational fluency in everyday contexts and developing proficiency in the language registers required for academic success? What adjustments do we need to make in curriculum, instruction and assessment to ensure that second-language learners understand what is being taught and are assessed in a fair and equitable manner? How long do we need to wait before including second-language learners in high-stakes national examinations and assessments? What role (if any) should be accorded students' first language in the curriculum? Do bilingual education programs work well for poor children from minority-language backgrounds or should they be reserved only for middle-class children from the majority or dominant group? In addressing these issues, this volume focuses not only on issues of language learning and teaching but also highlights the ways in which power relations in the wider society affect patterns of teacher-student interaction in the classroom. Effective instruction will inevitably challenge patterns of coercive power relations in both school and society.

Die Entwicklung und Stärkung von Selbstwirksamkeitserwartung und Kompetenzen sowie eine Anregung zur Entwicklung eines beruflichen Selbstkonzepts sind zentrale Ziele der »Schüler*innenfirma«. Sabine Zimmermann diskutiert dieses ganzheitliche und integrative Konzept aus der Perspektive der Sozialen Arbeit und vor dem Hintergrund interaktionistisch-konstruktivistischer, partizipativer und ästhetischer Theorien. Dabei macht sie deutlich, warum die Soziale Arbeit dieses Konzept in ihrem Handlungs- und Methodenrepertoire als ein eigenes Angebot stärker berücksichtigen sollte - insbesondere in der Arbeit mit Kindern und Jugendlichen in sozial benachteiligten Stadtteilen.

Universities and Engagement is a timely and insightful book that examines what universities can contribute to their communities and economies through lifelong learning, a topic which is of increasing importance to Higher Education Institutions across the world. The book will offer an answer to the question 'What can be understood by University Lifelong Learning today?' by collating the work of specialists from across Europe and beyond who have first-hand experience in the field of university engagement through continuing education. With a diverse range of expertise from the UK, Ireland, Germany, Finland, Malta, Belgium, New Zealand, Austria and the USA, readers are guaranteed a varied and informative collection of perspectives on this important topic. Taken as a whole, the book provides a theoretical background for readers, drawing on recent research and practice examples from a variety of countries and institutional settings, as well as demonstrating a variety of conceptual approaches, confirming the diverse range of possible solutions. Key topics covered include: research into policy and practice; engaging with business and industry; engaging with communities; engaging with an ageing society; active citizenship and regional competitiveness. Developed in collaboration with the European University Continuing Education Network (EUCEN), Universities and Engagement is an invaluable contribution to research in the subject of lifelong learning. It will be of value to academics, practitioners and professionals with an interest in higher education and community management, and will be particularly suited to those interested in lifelong learning, adult education and community development.

From Governance to Identity Routledge

Berufsorientierung gewinnt seit Jahren, besonders mit Blick auf deren qualitative Weiterentwicklung, in schulischen und außerschulischen pädagogischen Handlungsfeldern an Bedeutung. Auch im Kontext des Bemühens um ein systematisches und effektives regionales Übergangsmanagement nimmt die Relevanz der Berufs- und Studienorientierung stetig zu. Angebote zur Förderung eines gelingenden Übergangs von der Schule in nachschulische Bildungswege existieren zahlreich, wissenschaftliche Befunde über deren Effekte und Nachhaltigkeit sind bis dato wenig zugänglich. Bislang fehlte eine interdisziplinäre und systematische Sammlung von Erkenntnissen zu Unterstützungsmaßnahmen am Übergang Schule-Beruf. Autorinnen und Autoren aus Forschung und Praxis skizzieren den aktuellen wissenschaftlichen Kenntnisstand, beschreiben und kommentieren Maßnahmen und Instrumente der Berufsorientierung und verdeutlichen die Chancen und Grenzen des Handlungsfeldes. Dieses Buch ist daher ein Überblickswerk für all jene, die sich mit Angeboten zur Berufs- und Studienorientierung im Spannungsfeld theoretischer Bestimmungen und pädagogischer Praxis auseinandersetzen möchten. Erstmals im deutschsprachigen Raum werden Instrumente zur Berufsorientierung als interdisziplinäres Forschungs- und Handlungsfeld in theoretischer, empirischer und pädagogisch-praktischer Perspektive diskutiert.

Seit 2018 gibt es das Grundlagenwerk „Praxis der Sinus-Milieus® - eine autoritative Darstellung des Milieuansatzes von SINUS und dessen Anwendungsmöglichkeiten, also eine Publikation, die die Gültigkeit der Sinus-Milieus im Kontext der soziokulturellen Dynamik begründet, ihre Aktualität in Zeiten von Digitalisierung und Globalisierung untermauert und ihren Nutzwert für Wissenschaft und Wirtschaft wie für den institutionellen Bereich deutlich macht. Diese Grundsatzveröffentlichung ist jetzt komplett überarbeitet, aktualisiert und ergänzt worden. Die vorliegende Neuauflage enthält die zwischenzeitlich upgedateten, d.h. neu konstituierten Sinus-Milieu-Modelle für Deutschland, Österreich und die Schweiz, das neue Migranten-Milieu-Modell und das neue internationale Meta-Milieu-Modell. Außerdem wurden wichtige Anwendungsbereiche der Sinus-Milieus ergänzt: ein Kapitel zum Thema Nachhaltigkeit, ein Kapitel zur Markenwahrnehmung, ein Kapitel zur politischen Transformationsberatung, ein Kapitel zur milieuspezifischen Entwicklung von Personas und anderes mehr. Das vorliegende Buch liefert Informationen über die Sinus-Milieus „direkt von der Quelle“, aus Sicht der Erfinder, Entwickler und Anwender des Ansatzes. Geschrieben haben die hier zusammengestellten Essays die wissenschaftlichen Beiräte, Gesellschafter, Mitarbeiter, Kunden und Partner der für die Sinus-Milieus verantwortlich zeichnenden Schwesterinstitute SINUS (Heidelberg/Berlin/Singapur) und INTEGRAL (Wien). Die Beiträge zeigen auf, aus ihrer je eigenen Perspektive und Erfahrung, was es mit den Sinus-Milieus auf sich hat und wozu sie gut sind.

Sellin writes with a rough poetic beauty born of great pain and continual struggle, reaching out from his "island of sorrow" to embrace the "people of the overworld." I Don't Want to Be Inside Me Anymore is a firsthand account of rare eloquence and immediacy, a remarkable story of raw human courage and - ultimately - indomitable hope.

By the time ninth grade begins, Ishmael Leseur knows it won't be long before Barry Bagsley, the class bully, says, "Ishmael? What kind of wussy-crap name is that?" Ishmael's perfected the art of making himself virtually invisible. But all that changes when James Scobie joins the class. Unlike Ishmael, James has no sense of fear - he claims it was removed during an operation. Now nothing will stop James and Ishmael from taking on bullies, bugs and Moby Dick, in the toughest, weirdest, most embarrassingly awful - and the best - year of their lives.

Although there is broad agreement about the major components of good reading instruction, many students continue to struggle with reading, and some never achieve high levels of literacy. This book presents an interest-driven model of reading that focuses on students' strengths and abilities, not their deficits.

On the occasion of Mary Henkel's seventieth birthday a group of her colleagues have come together to write this volume of articles as a tribute to her work and a token of gratitude for contributions to higher education research. The authors analyse these developments leading up to and possibly beyond the present in a tribute to Mary Henkel's work using her birthday as an occasion to focus attention on her contributions to higher education research - something she would normally seek to avoid. This book is also a contribute to understanding how research in higher education has developed since its origins as Mary Henkel was one of its founding scholars together with other well-known researchers such as Maurice Kogan, Guy Neave, Ulrich Teichler, Martin Trow, Burton Clark, etc. The book will be useful to all researchers in areas related to higher education, namely governance, academic work, academic identities and quality.

This updated edition of the Handbook of Autism explores and expands on the practical and jargon free information of the best-selling first edition. The authors dispel many of the myths surrounding this puzzling and complex disorder. They provide practical information that makes sense, covering both medical and educational issues. Revised research and new case-studies, including follow-ups to the case-studies featured in the first edition reflect the developments made over the last eight years both in the understanding and management of autism. A list of contacts and services at the back of the book underlines its practical approach.

Dr. Vermeulen has produced a brilliant work that demands attention. Autism as Context Blindness provides a unique glance into the minds of individuals with autism. A Mom's Choice Award winner, Autism as Context Blindness provides a unique glance into the minds of individuals with autism. It is simple but groundbreaking. Application of Vermeulen's insights will help autists to better understand contexts in which they live. While we have become increasingly familiar with the term autistic thinking, people with autism are still misunderstood. In this book, inspired by the ideas of Uta Frith, the internationally known psychologist and a pioneer in theory of mind as it relates to autism, Vermeulen explains in everyday terms how the autistic brain functions and highlights the impact of not understanding context. Full of often humorous examples, the book examines context as it relates to observation, social interactions, communication and knowledge. The book concludes with a section on how to reduce context blindness—a skill vital for successful functioning. Due to the far-reaching consequences of context blindness, this book is a must-read for those living and working with somebody with autism. Dr. Vermeulen's insights regarding context blindness deliver fresh perspective on how individuals with autism spectrum disorder

(ASD) perceive and respond to their environment.

17-year-old Sascha Naimann lives in Berlin's Russian ghetto with her two younger siblings and, until recently, her mother. She is precocious, independent, street-wise, and, since her stepfather murdered her mother several months ago, an orphan. Unlike most of her companions, she doesn't dream of escaping from the tough housing project where they live. Sascha's dreams are different: she longs to write a novel about her beautiful but naive mother and kill her stepfather. Sacha's story, candid and self-confident, relates her struggle.
